We want to remind you what God has said about these topics. - MM

#1: How do I know, can I be sure of, God's calling for my life? SP

The calling in your life and knowing it/understanding it is a byproduct of your walk with the Lord.

When you are intimate with God, you can't not be in His will.

In order to be in God's will, you have to be in an intimate relationship with Him.

Worry more about your relationship with the Lord than your calling.

There is a general call on all believers: go and make disciples. - MM

#2: What are your best tips to study the Bible? MM

Read it with an understanding to get to know God.

Every single page of the Bible points to God's character.

Ask "What does this teach me about God?".

Don't read in your own knowledge.

Rely on the power of the Holy Spirit.

Get a study Bible.

Don't discredit yourself from being able to dig into the text and to be able to learn the character of God through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Do it with someone else for accountability and discussion. - SP

Download the App called the Bible Project. - SP

#3: Best tips for combating feeling lonely as a leader. SP

All quotes are from Michelle Myers or Somer Phoebus unless otherwise noted.

If you are a lonely leader, it's something you brought on yourself.

Community is something God wants for us.

If you are looking for community, create an incredible community.

Community can be in your house on Friday nights, inviting people over for dinner.

You can't be picky about who you have in your life.

Sometimes we need to hang out with people who are nothing like us.

Make sure you create margin for relationships.

Feelings are real but they are not always true. - MM

When you lead for Christ, know that you have a real enemy. - MM

#4: I struggle with having a Biblical mindset for money. Quick tips: MM

Jesus talked more about money than salvation.

He doesn't want us to put our dependence or our worth in money.

Money is not bad. Relying on money is the problem.

Your dependence will be easier to default to yourself.

Money belongs to God.

View everything you have as God's, not your own. You are just a manager.

"How can I use this to further Your Kingdom?"

Have an open-handed approach to money.

#5: How do I navigate relationships with people who are close to me who don't know the Lord?

All quotes are from Michelle Myers or Somer Phoebus unless otherwise noted.

Treasure that relationship!

Love that person so well.

When you are a follower of Christ, and you are friends with someone who is not, you will disagree on deep things.

If you avoid relationships with people who don't know the Lord, you avoid opportunities to introduce God to these people.

They keep you on your toes.

Understand your impact on their life will be personal.

The goal is always that they will come to know Christ.

It is important that we don't expect too much from them.

Pouring into non-believers, is one of our greatest opportunities.

Remember who you answer to. - MM

You can't control what people think, you can only control what is true. - MM

Love them like God loves them. - MM

#6: What if my husband is not the spiritual leader in my home? SP

Paul says men are the head of the home. It is a gift to us. Paul doesn't say that men are the spiritual leader of the home.

Spiritual leadership inside the home will sometimes be the woman's role if she is the one walking with the Lord.

The worst thing you can do is compare your husband with someone else, or tell him in a nagging way that you want him to be the spiritual leader.

All quotes are from Michelle Myers or Somer Phoebus unless otherwise noted.

If your husband isn't the spiritual leader in your home, you get to help lead, encourage, affirm him.

If he doesn't want to know the Lord, you will be the spiritual leader for your home, your kids, etc.

#7: What do you believe about women's roles in the church? MM

We don't have the luxury to voice our opinions above what God's Word clearly says.

Jesus elevated women above what society deemed.

Don't abandon what you know God has asked you to do.

We can do everything God has asked us to do. We don't have to have a title or certain position.

Don't cheapen God's calling to a title or particular position; do the work.

If you have made it about a role or title, you're missing the point.

There is nothing that you can't do that God has called you to do.

God's call on your life comes directly to you from God. You shouldn't seek the approval of someone else in order to be able to do it. - SP

Fight for the glory of God. - SP

#8: I have been hurt by the church in my past. MM

Everyone but Jesus will let you down.

We cannot elevate people above where we should.

There is no perfect church or person.

The church is God's plan A.

Get back in church, even if you've been hurt.

All quotes are from Michelle Myers or Somer Phoebus unless otherwise noted.

Use your gifts to try to make the church better.

#9: I am not happy at my current job - advice? SP

No matter what, if it's work, it's called work for a reason - it's a job, it's hard, there are tedious tasks.

You can't give up where you are, but there are a lot of other opportunities.

Don't put all of your eggs in one basket.

It's ok to look for something else.

You are after spiritual joy + spiritual fulfillment. You can get that anywhere if you go to the Lord first.

"We live in a time when risk is revered, admired and idolized. We also live in a time when commitment is avoided, ignored and looked down upon. The paradox is that commitment is the risk. Anyone can jump from one thing to the next. The bold have the audacity to choose, serve and stay." - Alex Judd

Sometimes the reason why you are there has nothing to do with the job. - MM

#10: What to you think the swHw woman could do to truly stand out for Christ? MM

Matthew 6

Jesus is the spiritual authority and we are all brothers.

If we want to stand out for Christ, don't try to play the Holy Spirit in peoples' lives.

Do I trust God to give you the same guidance and direction that He gives me?

Let God be God and you be the spiritual sibling to as many people as you can.

#11: the swHw mission. SP

We are all sisters doing the work of the Lord together.

You have a circle of influence and they need you to step up and love them.

All quotes are from Michelle Myers or Somer Phoebus unless otherwise noted.

We want to draw to the Lord together.

We are a community here and we want to get to know you.

We need everyone on board, a part of the mission so we can move forward.

#12: if you could only recommend 3 books to develop as a business owner. MM

The Bible is home base. It's the non-negotiable, it's the book you never put down.

EntreLeadership by Dave Ramsey

Never Lose a Customer Again by Joey Coleman

It takes 90% more time, energy and effort to recruit a new customer than it does to keep an existing one.

Before you think about scaling, think about retention.

#13: Top productivity tips. SP

Complication is the enemy of execution. You must simply.

Time management is emotional, not logical.

The things that you love the most will get the most of your time.

When you are prioritizing like a swHw woman, that will be reflected in the way you manage your time.

We give away the greatest resource that we have - time - to the things we see that need it the most.

Prioritize God first, family second, work third.
